ON the 3d the associated banks of New York city held $16,526,035 in excess of the requirements of the 25-per-cent. rule.

MISSOURI STATE NEWS.

An Awful Tragedy.

When the two daughters of Mrs. John Bomley, wife of a farmer near Arkoe, Nodaway county, returned home from school they found their mother lying dead in the kitchen, with her brains beaten out, and signs of a desperate encounter in several rooms. It is supposed that a tramp found Mrs. Bomley alone with her babe, and attempted an assault. Indications point to the struggle having been first made upstairs, where broken furniture tells the tale of a desperate fight. From there the participants descended to the first floor, and finally reached the kitchen, where Mrs. Bomley seized a store-lift and defended herself. Wounds about her head and body show that her assailant completed his murderous work with a store-lift. All the rooms where the parties fought were covered with blood and tell of the desperate struggle the woman made for her life and honor. Mr. Bomley was away from home during the day.

More About George Taylor.

Says a dispatch from Guthrie, Okla.: "Deputy-Marshal F. M. Canton says he has positive information that George Taylor, the escaped murderer of the Meeks' family in Missouri, is living in the mountains of the Creek reservation. He is with former Missourians, and in the hiding places in that section he is safe from pursuit. Canton had him definitely located several weeks ago, and was organizing to go after him when Taylor learned of the intended raid and moved to another point. Other deputies in from that section say that Taylor is organizing a gang of outlaws, and will become as desperate and notorious as Bill Doolin."

Remembers a Friend.

Secretary of the Interior Francis has appointed William P. Coleman, of Rich Hill, one of the commissioners to examine and determine the boundaries of the Klamath Indian reservation in Oregon. The whites have been encroaching on the territory of the Indians, and the latter formally protested to the secretary of the interior. The salary of the commissioners is $10 per day, and $3 a day is allowed them for expenses. This was the first plum that Secretary Francis had thrown to a Missourian since he took charge.

A Bad Freight Train Wreck.

A freight train on the St. Louis division of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railway was derailed at Wilton Station, Boone county, by reason, it is supposed, of someone having tampered with the switch. The engine turned over and Fireman William Blake, of Franklin Junction, was killed. Engineer Evans jumped and escaped with a few bruises. Six cars of merchandise were demolished.

State Department Collections.

Secretary of State Lesauere gives out the following statement of fees collected by the department of state during the month ending September 30, 1896, and turned into the state treasury: Notaries public, $350; miscellaneous and land department, $194.90; domestic corporations, $1,785; foreign corporations, $100; endowment tax, $198.50; bank examination, $631; total, $3,259.40.

A Good Showing.

Reports from the Sunday-schools of the St. Louis conference of the M. E. church, south, show 13,880 scholars, 99,571 teachers, $18,095 scholars; increase in teachers, 233; scholars, 7,518. The report on missions shows a decrease in collections for the past year of about $8,000. The report of the fourteenth year of the M. E. church extension shows an increase of 67 churches.

A Narrow Escape.

Aeronaut H. Kilgore narrowly escaped death at Boonville. When the ropes were released the balloon shot up rapidly to the height of several hundred feet, and then began to descend suddenly. The wind swept it against the Presbyterian church and Kilgore was forced to jump without his parachute, but escaped injury.

St. Louis' Taxable Wealth.

The bank stock owned in St. Louis is assessed at $30,000,000 this year. The aggregate assessment of property in the city is $312,000. This is greater than the assessment of Chicago.

A Noble Example.

The receipts of the last week of the St. Louis exposition will be given for the relief of the tornado sufferers. There will be a rush.

SEMI-CENTENNIAL.

Of the Admission of Iowa to the Union of States Grandly Celebrated at Burlington. The Proceedings Marked by the Collapse of a Reviewing Stand—Gov. Drake, Vice-President Stevenson and Several Others Hurt.

BURLINGTON, Ia., Oct. 2.—The semi-centennial celebration of Iowa's statehood opened in a blaze of glory. After three weeks of steady rain the sun shone forth Wednesday, and all night long street sweepers and great gangs of men and wagons scoured the streets. Electric lights are strung at intervals of ten feet on all the main streets, and a sea of banners and bunting is strung across the streets and on the buildings, even out into the residence district Wednesday night, at the Coliseum, 50,000 people attended the grand opening concert and ball. The music was furnished by the Iowa State band of World's fair fame.

With the break of day cannon boomed from the bluffs, bells rang and whistles blew, and again at noon for ten minutes the noise was repeated. The parade, the grandest ever seen here, started at 11 a. m., and was witnessed by 25,000 people. Gov. Drake and Vice-President Stevenson rode near the head of the column, followed by the governor's staff, mounted and on foot. A full battalion of the Iowa national guard headed the column. Brass bands from all over the state were in line. Floats representing the progress of Iowa from 1846 to 1896 were also in line. A band of 40 full-blooded Tama Indians followed the troops. Two cowboys dashed after the Indians and ran for 15 minutes through the dense crowd before they were captured. Great excitement prevailed and narrow escapes were numerous. It took the policemen ten minutes to pull the crazed cow-punchers from their horses, and a hand-to-hand fight with whips and clubs took place. The parade was far ahead of anything ever seen here.

An Accident Mars the Festivities.

BURLINGTON, Ia., Oct. 2.—Just after the procession in the semi-centennial celebration got under way and while 20,000 people were in the streets, a reviewing stand broke down. Gov. Drake and Vice-President Stevenson were slightly injured. County Treasurer E. S. Burrus will die. City Clerk Fred L. Poor is dangerously injured; State Commissioner Seymour Jones, badly hurt; J. D. Rowen, of Gov. Drake's staff, badly bruised. Everyone on the stand was more or less injured.

A later rumor says that Gov. Drake and Vice-President Stevenson were both seriously injured.

THE INJURED.

Gov. Drake and Vice-President Stevenson were in the front tier of seats and were thrown backward upon the others, and thus escaped fatal injury, but nevertheless were badly shaken up and considerably bruised. Ex-Gov. Sherman, of Iowa, was in the rear of the stand and fell at the very bottom of the mass. He was found with a heavy timber across his legs and a plank resting on his neck and back. He is badly hurt.

Maj. Weyman, of Ottumwa, was injured in the spine and is paralyzed. How badly he is hurt will not be known for several days. It was expected, but afterwards denied, that his back was broken.

E. S. Burrus, treasurer of Des Moines county, may die; both of his legs are broken.

Lafayette Young, editor of the Iowa Capital, was badly cut and bruised about the head.

City Clerk Fred L. Poor was bruised and cut.

Miss Mary Lord Drake, the governor's daughter, was slightly bruised.

All of the staff officers suffered more or less, and their swords and regalia were badly broken and badly torn.

State Commissioner Seymour Jones' leg was injured. The sufferers were conveyed to hospitals and hotels and their injuries promptly attended to. The stand was a private affair hastily constructed and had not been inspected like the others. The crowd was warned not to go on it, as the officials were all who were intended to occupy it, and for them it was sufficiently strong, but a rush was made, and the stand, as predicted, went down.

THIRTY WEALTHY ARMENIANS.

Arrested on Suspicion, But Believed to be Wholly Innocent.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 2.—Up to September 20, 30 wealthy Armenians, including one Armenian notability, had been arrested on suspicion of having taken part in the recent revolutionary movements. The general opinion is that these persons are wholly innocent.

Considerable excitement was caused in the Yenikapi quarter Wednesday evening by the explosion of a bomb. The police say that the explosion, which did no damage, was the result of an effort on the part of an Armenian woman to get rid of a number of bombs which she had in her possession. She was in the act of throwing the bombs into the sea when one of them exploded. The woman was arrested. A cordon of troops was been thrown around the Turkish quarter of Pera. This action is believed to be a precautionary measure against trouble growing out of the arrest of certain Turks connected with the growing discontent of the Moslems with the present government.

THROUGH A TRESTLE.

Seven Cars Went Down as the Result of a Broken Axle.

LYNCHBURG, Va., Oct. 2.—The axle of a car of a freight train coming north on the Southern railway broke while the train was on a trestle a few miles north of Danville. The dragging of the broken axle caused the trestle to give way, and seven cars went through. Nobody was hurt. Passenger trains have to go from here on the Norfolk & Western to Burkeville, from the south on the Richmond & Danville branch of the Southern.

BRYAN ACCEPTS.

The Nomination Tendered by the People's Party—Seen No Cause for Disagreement Between the Various Parties Which Have Nominated Him, as the Goal for Which All Strive is Free Silver.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 4.—William J. Bryan yesterday gave out his letter accepting the populist nomination. It reads as follows:

LYNCHBURG, Neb., October 3, 1896.
Hon. William F. Allen, Chairman, and Others, Members of the National Committee of the People's Party:

GENTLEMEN: The nomination of the people's party for the presidency of the United States has been tendered me in such a generous spirit and upon such honorable terms that I am able to accept the same without departing from the platform adopted by the democratic national convention at Chicago.

I fully appreciate the breadth of patriotism which has actuated the members of the people's party, who, in order to consolidate the sentiment in favor of bimetalism, have been willing to go outside of party lines and support their candidate one already nominated by the democratic party and also by the silver party. I also appreciate the fact that while, during all the years since 1872, a large majority of the democratic party and a considerable minority of the republican party have been consistently advocates to the free coinage of silver at the present ratio, yet ever since the organization of the people's party its members have unanimously supported such coinage as the only means of restoring bimetalism. By persistently pointing out the disastrous effects of a gold standard and protesting against every successive step towards financial bondage, the populists have exerted an important influence in awakening the people to a realization of the nation's present peril. In a time like this, when a great political party is attempting to surrender the right to legislate for ourselves upon the financial question, and is seeking to bind the American people to a foreign monetary system, I believe us, as lovers of our country and friends of American institutions, to lay aside for the present such differences as may exist among us on minor questions in order that our strength may be united in a supreme effort to wrest the government from the hands of those who imagine that the nation's finances are only secure when controlled by a few financiers, and that national honor can be maintained by servile acquiescence in any policy, however destructive to the interests of the people of the United States, which foreign creditors, present or prospective, may desire to force upon us.

It is a cause of congratulation that we have in this campaign not only the support of democrats, populists and republicans who have all along believed in independent bimetalism, but also the united political organizations of democrats and republicans who, heretofore, waited for international bimetalism, but now join with us rather than trust the destinies of the nation in the hands of those who are holding out the deceptive hope of foreign aid, while they labor secretly for the permanent establishment of the gold standard.

While difficulties always arise in the settlement of the details of any plan of co-operation between distinct political organizations, I am sure that the advocates of bimetalism are so intensely in earnest that they will be able to devise some means by which the free silver vote may be concentrated upon one electoral ticket in each state. To secure this result, charity towards the opinions of others, and liberality on the part of all, is necessary, but honest and sincere friends who are working towards a common result always find it possible to agree upon just and equitable terms.

The American people have proven equal to every emergency which has arisen in the past, and I am confident that in the present emergency there will be no antagonism between the various regiments of the one great army which is marching to repel an invasion more dangerous to our welfare than an army with banners. Acknowledging with gratitude your expressions of confidence and good will I am very truly yours,

W. J. BRYAN.

LATER AND WORSE.

Reports from the scene of the Great Southern Storm—The Death Roll Growing.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 4.—Reports from the remote sections where the storm visited increase the number of dead. At Doublesink, in Levy county, a large settlement, nearly every house was swept
